

NEVADA STATE LEGISLATURE

Churchill County Senatorship Contest the Feature of the Day.

Special to The Journal:

CARSON, Feb. 3. — The Churchill county election contest was the star feature of legislative proceedings today at the Capitol. The Senate's regular morning session was brief and the Assembly reached a rest at three o'clock after having run through a grist of routine business. Green, president pro tem, occupied the chair. The contest over the seat of Williams was the special order for 2 o'clock in the upper branch. An immense crowd of spectators, including many visitors to Carson, came into the Senate chamber to hear the arguments. Judge Massey, for the contestant, Ernst, opened the case and stated the ground of the contest. Cooke, of Washoe, representing the incumbent of the Senatorial seat, Williams, replied in the defense. At the outset there was a locking of horns on the matter of reading the depositions, which Judge Massey said would occupy two or three days.

Cooke desired that all the testimony should be submitted to the committee. Mr. Massey believed that the matter of depositions should be considered read by the committee as to read in reality would take two or three days.

Pitt moved that the attorneys on both sides submit such testimony as they desired to perfect their case. Motion sustained by a vote of 12 to 4. Williams stated that he desired the Senate hear the evidence and depositions. If he was entitled to the seat he wanted it; if not entitled to it he did not want the seat.

The reading of the testimony by Judge Massey deeply interested a large number of sympathizers on both sides. Members of the Assembly came over to listen to the cases.

Senate Bill, No. 18, Bell: An Act to reimburse W. Brougher and T. L. Odde. Bill read third time and passed.

Senate Bill, No. 17, Bell: An Act regulating compensation of Nye county officials. Read third time and passed.

Senate Bill, No. 19, Brougher: Act relating to appointment of a State Mineralogist. Referred to Committee on Mines and Mining.

Senate Bill, No. 3, Prudden: An Act to provide funds for an exhibit at St. Louis. Bill in committee session amended by cutting appropriation from 20,000 to $10,000, and giving Governor appointing power of the commissioners. Bill referred to committee of the whole with recommendation that the exhibit of Nevada be transferred from St. Louis to the Lewis & Clark Exposition at Portland, Ore.

ASSEMBLY—FOURTEENTH DAY

After the usual opening exercises, such as prayer by the Chaplain, roll call and the approval of the Journal of yesterday, the following routine business was transacted:

Assembly Bill, No. 1, better known as the "sheep bill" was the first to be taken up, and after a lively discussion was sidetracked for a day or two.

Kitson, of Storey, gave notice that he would at some future date introduce a bill to regulate the license upon all games of chance.

Kitson also gave notice of a bill licensing dance halls.

McCarra gave notice of a bill creating a State Fish Commission.

Assembly Bill, No. 23, Denton, of Lincoln: A new revenue act, amending and supplementing the present one. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

Assembly Bill, No. 24, Griffin, of Washoe: Authorizing the trustees of school district No. 19 in Reno to sell certain property now on hand and purchase real estate for a new school house site, and to issue bonds. Referred to the Washoe delegation.

Assembly Bill, No. 25, Holmes, of Storey: By request—To amend the present act relating to salaries of Storey county officials. Referred to the Storey delegation.

Assembly Bill, No. 26, Cushing: An Act compelling children of school age where the government or the State of Nevada provides schools, lodging, food and clothing, etc., for the attendants (probably intended to apply particularly to Indian children.) Referred to the Committee on Education.

Assembly Bill, No. 27, Cooke, of Washoe: Amending and supplementing to the act relating to the settlement of the estate of deceased persons. Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Assembly Bill, No. 14, Denton, of Lincoln: Providing that money for jury fees in Lincoln county may be drawn from the general fund of that county. Considered engrossed and passed the Assembly by a unanimous vote.

Assembly Bill, No. 10, Averill, of Esmeralda: To restrict writs of injunction. This bill provides that no court shall at any time or under any circumstance issue a writ to restrain the freedom of speech of people assembled for peaceable purposes, nor to prevent demonstrations of labor or other organizations so long as they conduct themselves peaceably; nor to restrain solicitation by labor organizations of men employed. Also provides that the courts of Nevada shall construe the existing statutes as strictly against the application for a writ. There was some objection to the last clause, but the bill passed the Assembly by a vote of 32 to 2.

Senate Bill, No. 6, Bell: To prevent fraud at elections. Had been referred back to the House by the Judiciary Committee unfavorably.

Amendment offered making the penalty at a fine from $100 to $500 or imprisonment in the county jail six months or less.

The amendment was carried by a vote of 20 to 7. The bill was lost by a vote of 25 to 8.

Assembly took a recess until 2 p. m.

THE NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Everybody is crowding as many gaities as possible into the period which intervenes between now and the beginning of Lent, all of which is having a most delightful effect upon fashions.

There still remain some striking mid-winter styles and one sees them at receptions, tea parties and in the shops where the buying of summer novelties is in progress. The great demand for thin materials just now is simply a forecast of the brilliant dress parade which will characterize the warm-weather season and though it is well to prepare for days that are to come one can not neglect the styles that be.

The tailor-made suit in its new spring adaptations is a joy to the eye and a distraction to the pulse at the same time. It is not long ago since even the women of means boasted only one tailor-made suit and this she wore on every possible occasion, but things have changed and any wardrobe that is truly smart should contain three tailor-made gowns at least—one of satin faced material for semi-dress occasions and informal affairs, another of rough gowns and more severely carried out for street wear exclusively, and the walking costume for rainy and dull days or for outings.

Velvet vies with highly finished cloths for a place of favor and is really used more for tailor-made gowns than for full-dress occasions. Exclusively designs come trimmed with bands of woolen gilette braid. Such a decoration may be incongruous, but since the ensemble is chic one need go no further.

Whatever may be said against it, there is a dignity about the tailored skirt that appeals specially to the modish woman and as long as clinging effects and slender outlines obtain, this style of skirt will be worn. In it lies the hope of the short woman for relief from the horrors of dumplings. It is likewise the salvation of the attenuated sisterhood whose angularities are transformed into graceful curves by soft clinging folds.

So the long skirt will be en vogue for another season at least.

Lace has become so indispensable a feature of fashion that it has invaded even the province of the street gown. Not that touches of it have not been apparent of this style of dress before, but now it reaches the point of elaboration. A tailor-made design which is delicately smart is executed in plain lilies cloth and has alternating folds of panne velvet on both the skirt and bodice.

Down the front runs a broad band of heavy lace with a row of brown tassels on either side. The rows of brown velvet in Roman key pattern trim the skirt. There are both economy and convenience in the new lace which combine embroidery or cut strips of tassel bands and come ready to be applied to skirts and bodices. They save one the trouble of thinking out schemes of decoration.

It is a harmonious blending of colors and when these two important matters of dress can be settled so easily the price of the trimming is well worth the trouble made to raise it.

Continuing the description of the look and lace dress, however, the leaves open over a Bishop sleeve of Russian lace and it has in folds held in place by tiny rows of French knots.

The luxury of twentieth century modes is expressed in two coats which are designed to go with the costume, one for mild days and another for cold days.

The first is of pongee silk and reaches to the hem of the skirt. It is trimmed with Russian lace while the Roman key pattern of the dress is carried out on lapels and cuffs.

The second coat is of black Melton. It has a cape of heavy white fur which falls in long embroidered tabs in front producing a smartly elegant effect. At the shoulders there are shorter tabs fastened to the lace with black embroidered buttons.

A hat of white beaver for which tan may be substituted with good results completes the costume and is trimmed with white liberty satin and a trailing white plume.

The passing of the pouched bodice which has seen its most palmy days is emphasized in the new thin gowns. Until now Dame Fashion though tired of bloused effects, had nothing quite as pretty and generally becoming to take their place. But there has been going on some tall thinking out of which the idea of a fascinating little belt has evolved and though it is a straight little affair, requiring a good deal of softening through the assistance of chiffon, etc., it is really charmingly piquant.

It is possible now to get the loveliest thin gowns and lace robes for a really reasonable price. A fairy-like design which is worthy of imitation is strewn with flowers of Bouvais work. The skirt is soft and clinging, falling like a mist over a white satin lining.

The bodice, which is cut low, boasts no trimming except the Bouvais work and touches of lace about the décolletage. A sash of chiffon further adds to the sweetness of the effect.

Pink is among the revivals of the season for entire costumes. Of late its place has been usurped by pale blues and delicate greens, but it has returned to favor with a furor. A delicious frock of pink satin is made with long, clinging skirt appliqued in renaissance lace. The waist is relieved by touches of black velvet, which give it a decidedly Parisian appearance.

There is a pointed girdle of the lace and the sleeves, which are shot, are of the satin with a ruffle of lace under a full frill of satin. The bodice is filled in above the girdle with soft folds of white chiffon. Clusters of tiny pink rosebuds are caught in with the knots of black velvet ribbon adorns the front of the bodice.

The slashed-seam effect has suffered no loss of favor by the changes of fashion. Indeed the idea is daintily carried out in one of the new shirts—novelties in which are constantly appearing. The waist is in pale blue nun's-veiling, piped with plaid silk. The sleeves are plain and full with a straight cuff.

The back fits closely and a distinguishing feature of the design is the absence of a yoke. The front shows the slashed or slot-seam effect, with two narrow plaits on either side running from shoulder-seam to belt.

There are two or three new shades among the spring colorings—hollyhock yellow, dove blue—whatever tint that may be—and a daring shade of cerise. They are quite pretty, but with the exception of the second, need the sobering touch of black to make them adapted to any but evening wear.

New York's Civic Birth Special to The Journal

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—There were flags flying from the public buildings yesterday in token of the fact that the city of New York is just two hundred and fifty years old. It was on February 2, 1653 that New Amsterdam became a city by virtue of a decision reached by the Amsterdam Chamber of the West India Company. In 1664 the name was changed to New York and the first mayor was Thomas D. Living.

It is very doubtful if the first mayor ever dreamed of the great changes that would be wrought under the administration of his successors during the next two and a half centuries. In the western metropolis at that time any one who would promise to build on the south side of Wall street received the land for nothing. Today it is difficult to obtain it at any price. In those early days partridges were shot close to Bowling Green, and the English pirates were annoying. Negro slaves were purchased from the slave ships.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION
Second Day of Hearing in the Justice Court.

The preliminary examination of Harry Butts and W. D. Phillips was continued in the Justice Court yesterday morning.

Every available seat in the court room was occupied and the audience listened to the proceedings with as much interest as is usually given the production of a good melodrama.

The first witness called was Auditor McMurtv of the Southern Pacific Company. The witness went over the same grounds almost that he did on the evening previous, and nothing of a sensational nature was developed.

J. H. Williamson, agent for the Southern Pacific Company at this place was the next witness called to the stand, and his examination occupied all of the morning session of court.

He described the duties of Mr. Phillips as ticket agent and gave many details connected with the work that could be of interest only to the railroad company and those in its employ.

Nelson Coffin was called as the first witness at the afternoon session. He stated that he had been employed in the ticket office with the defendant for something like seven or eight years.

He gave a detailed account of how Mr. Phillips performed the work of the ticket office and stated that as a usual thing the cash was made up in the afternoon. A book was produced in court and Mr. Coffin identified it as the book containing the transactions of the day the robbery is alleged to have taken place.

After a lot of questioning by both sides in relation to the book, an old pistol was produced and offered in evidence.

The pistol was shown to Mr. Coffin and he identified it as one that had lain in one of the drawers in the office for some time. The pistol was an old powder and ball weapon and Mr. Coffin was enabled to identify it by its antiquity. He stated that the pistol had been shown him after the robbery by Detective Ahern who told him that it had been found on the street.

Herbert L. Connors was the next witness called. He testified that the pistol in evidence had been seen by him in the ticket office a number of times and he also stated that he had discharged the pistol on the fourth of July last.

Mail carrier John C. Shivers testified that he had been in the ticket office the day the robbery took place. He said that it was lying in the dust at the corner of the Clendenen hotel. Mr. Shivers gave the time he had left the office when he saw the pistol. He said that he had started out on his route and after having come a short distance discovered that he had forgotten a bundle of papers at the ticket office. He went back to get them and found the pistol. He said that he had turned the pistol over to the sheriff about two hours later.

After Mr. Shivers' testimony had been read to him and signed, District Attorney Pike moved that the court adjourn until this morning at 10 o'clock. He stated that the prosecution probably have all their evidence in by the noon hour. There was a recess on the part of the court until this morning at 10 o'clock. The court then adjourned.

They have had the room to the north of the reception room converted into an office, and it is fixed up in a manner that is both neat, attractive and handy. They propose making a number of other changes in their building that will be a decided improvement upon present conditions.

A Change of Base
James Harper, who has been in the employ of the firm of Baker & Hamilton for the past seven years, has severed his connections with that firm and has associated himself with the Thomson-Diggs Co., of Sacramento.

This firm is one of the leaders in the hardware line on the Pacific coast and in securing the services of Mr. Harper they have made a move that is bound to result in good. Mr. Harper is one of the best salesmen on the coast, knows everybody in the country to the north and south, and has a multitude of friends here that he has made during his residence in this city. A. L. Alkire, the well known commercial traveler returned from a business trip to Tonopah Monday night. Mr. Alkire reports the camp to be strictly all right and says that in his opinion it is in its infancy as yet. He reported that business was good and predicted a good time thing for the coming spring and summer. He will probably remain here the balance of the week.

Stock Shipments
Yesterday was a slow one as far as stock shipments were concerned. Only a few carloads of cattle but they did ship from this point. They were consigned as follows:
Light cars of cattle to Hunt & Co., San Francisco, and two cars were consigned to L. Ammer, at Colfax. Two cars of cattle for Allen & Co., San Francisco, completed the consignments.

THE GOOD OPINION OF A WEBFOOT
Reno Chamber of Commerce Highly Complimented by a Visitor From Northwest.

Commissioner Freeman, of the Portland Lewis & Clark Centennial Exposition, (1905), who has been interviewing prominent officials and members of the Nevada legislature during the past few days, visited the Chamber of Commerce exhibition room yesterday. He expressed himself as agreeably surprised at the showing made by the Chamber, and to President Sample and Secretary Ingalls, the fair commissioner said, that he would be pleased to make a good report to the organization he represents upon the enterprise and energy of the local commercial organization.

"An active Chamber of Commerce composed of the best men of a community," Mr. Freeman said, "was a great power for permanent good in Reno. It means more, in my judgment, and from my experience in such matters, than mere local advancement. It makes for the promotion of the interests of the State at large."

The commissioner from Oregon said to a Journal representative that he was engaged in publicity work at the Omaha Trans-Mississippi Exposition two years and a half ago, and had been able to say many a good word for Nevada's mineral exhibit made at that successful exposition. He hopes to see a good exhibit at Portland of our State's resources two years hence. He said:

"It is vastly to your credit, as a community, that within so brief a time your commercial organization has been able to assemble so attractive and instructive an exhibit as is here displayed in the best of locations. It is prominent to the eyes of strangers who drop off at the depot and, to any one desiring to inform himself of what Nevada has within her expansive borders, it is most convenient to step across the street and view the display. Since traveling through Nevada I have had several surprises. One of them is the fact, evidenced in the Chamber of Commerce exhibition, that Nevada's agricultural possibilities are to be reckoned upon in fruit culture. I was but dimly aware that fine apples are grown in remote sections of this State—some of them equalling in size the famous marketable apples from Hood River and Medford, Ore. I can hardly be expected, you see, to concede that greater apples than Oregon's are produced anywhere."

"Nothing in the way of advertising and bringing to the attention of the easterners who seek homes in the intermountain or western territory can accomplish definite results quicker than your Chamber of Commerce. The secretary, Major Ingalls, I find, very much alive to his work. He is a well-posted man, and is not apt to overlook an opportunity to disseminate information of a reliable sort to people who want it. Major Ingalls has been over all of the coast States and surely knows as much about Nevada's minerals and the safe chances for investors' money here as any man living. He is the right sort of a man to talk up your State's prospects, which certainly are golden. I have found upon my visit to the cities of Nevada that the business men are quick to grasp any proposition looking to the advancement of the common good. With a little money judiciously expended through your Chamber of Commerce and other trade bodies you will find—as we of Oregon have found—that it will influence more people than in any other way. A unity of purpose such as forms the object of your commercial organization is bound to create the best impression with the chance outside."

"I like Reno for it displays an unmistakable desire to expand and to encourage legitimate industries. There is no reason why the next two years should not see an influx of newcomers. You are prepared here to deal with the stranger. Upon coming in to this city on my mission I, like many others no doubt, asked 'Have you a commercial organization—I have a proposition to lay before it.' A Chamber of Commerce is looked to to supply the best source of information. At home our promotion associations have been working for years to stimulate interest in the Northwest country generally and to scrupulously answer dozens of letters of inquiries which come to them from the east asking such questions as these: 'I am desirous of starting a small stock ranch on so much capital. Can you advise me?' etc. Another, 'I wish to know if there is in your State a good location for a grist mill, or a fruit farm, or a boot and shoe house, or a furniture house, or a chair-making concern.' Inquiries refer to all sorts of lines and our organizations take the pains to investigate what the chances for any of these respective lines are, and to inform the inquirer. As I have said an organization such as has been instituted in Reno is a power for great good. It deserves to be encouraged in every way. It reflects credit upon your leading citizens and its members that, busy men though they are, they are unselfish enough to devote their time to promoting the material welfare of the town. Wonders have been done by a little harmony of action in three months—that being the length of time, I am told, in which the local Chamber has accomplished what is shown. This is but a beginning and the progress of events will demonstrate much better things in the way of encouraging the establishment of industries here."

The Harriman system of railroads are doing a good work for the far West. Low rates for colonists last fall and again to be in effect to the coast from February 15th to April 30, is bound to bring fresh blood to all the States of the West. This is a time for the putting forth of effort on the part of everybody. We, of the West, want more people and surely for every sort and condition of people with even moderate means in the overcrowded eastern sections we have everything to offer them in the West.

Mr. Freeman is an enthusiastic Western man. He has for years heralded its advantages and its climatic beauties. At the Omaha Trans-Mississippi fair he was special correspondent for a string of Western newspapers and kept them all supplied with matters of interest and importance looking to the exploitation of the coast and intermountain States. Mr. Freeman pays a compliment to James Yerington, who advertised Nevada so well at the Pan-American show and at Omaha.

MUST BE WRONG
The Apportionment of School Money Not in Accordance With Law

If the opinion of Attorney-General Sweeney is correct the apportionment of the school moneys for this county as rendered by Superintendent Pike is entirely incorrect and a new apportionment will have to be made. This is occasioned by the local officer not including the sum of $84.95 in the total apportionment, this amount being withheld in the fund for other purposes. According to the opinion of the Attorney General all the moneys apportioned for school purposes must be used for that purpose and that alone, and that is for payment of salaries of certified teachers in this county, and other expenses pertaining thereto.

Remains Brought Here
The body of the late Mrs. Cordelia Mitchell was brought in from Beckwith yesterday afternoon. The funeral will take place from the residence of her son on Third street tomorrow afternoon.

New Papers Filed
Guardianship papers of Seymour I. Bryant, a minor, have been filed with the County Clerk. The application will be heard during this term of court. Norcross & Orr are named as attorneys having the matter in charge.

COMMISSIONERS MEETING
Transactions of This Body as a Town Board Yesterday

The Board of County Commissioners met yesterday morning as a Town Board and transacted routine business.

The regular city bills were allowed and other matters of minor importance passed upon.

It was ordered that two hundred trees be purchased for McKinley park, and it is stipulated that the trees were not to cost over $1 each. Another important feature of the order is that the trees must be live ones when turned over to the county.

The Board then adjourned until March 3d.

Water Pipes Frozen

Captain Gosse had a heap of troubles on his mind yesterday. The water pipe leading to the hotel went on a strike night before last, and as a consequence there was a lack of aqua pura in that popular hostelry. He had a force of men at work yesterday getting the pipe into working order, and this was accomplished last night.

Kindergarten Meeting
The Kindergarten Association will hold an important meeting this afternoon at the hall. All interested are invited to be in attendance as business of importance will be transacted.

THE DUTY OF LOYAL NEVADANS

DURING the last campaign in this State the Republicans played every card which they honestly held, as well as several which, in gamblers parlance, they had up their sleeves. A decent regard for the truth though forces The Journal to admit that these political cards were mighty small ones and seldom trumps Republican argument consisted mainly of unbridled and unscrupulous abuse of Mr. Newlands and of everybody else who favored his election. Newlands was an incontinent liar, and all of his friends who spoke a good word for him were likewise liars. He was not a bona fide resident of the State he came here merely as a political adventurer, he was a man of no ability, and who had nothing but his wealth to commend him.

Such was the general line of Republican argument and strange it is, but true, that it was employed by Republicans who immediately upon his arrival here were anxious to pit Mr. Newlands against John P. Jones as a Republican candidate for the United States Senate. This was fourteen years ago. Since then Mr. Newlands has been five times elected to Congress, and within those years he has lived in Nevada five times as much as Senators Jones and Stewart together. All the while his interest in the State and its people has been unabating, and if he is a moderately wealthy man he has spent many thousands of dollars of his money for the development and up-building of the commonwealth. Surely this ought not to have brought down upon him such a storm of vilification and abuse as that with which he was assailed.

However the people weighed such "argument" at its true value and the result is a triumph for Mr. Newlands the like of which few men have ever achieved in a senatorial contest in this country. All over the land his victory is looked upon as a remarkable one, and as introducing a new and better train in Nevada politics. The tone of the outside press is fully in compliment to him in the extreme. These outside papers which do not feel that they can afford to be untruthful usually have the decency to say that the man who has won is the man who has won. But in Nevada, where it is still smarting under the blows of the party which he overthrew on the 4th of November, the situation is quite different. Whenever a paper published in this State speaks of Newlands in connection with his victory, it is filled with more venom and less sense than ever. If the utterances of Republican newspapers published in this State were taken at their face value outside of the State the American people would be led to believe that Senator Newlands was not only the most corrupt man but the most complete no-account ever elected to the United States Senate.

The fiction but a cover and it being settled that if he wins Mr. Newlands will represent us in the upper house of Congress for the next six years. It would seem to be the duty of every loyal Nevada to strengthen his hands and make his job as full as possible. But a portion at least of the Republican press does not look at the matter in that way. It would rather destroy his good name and render him powerless as a representative of his people—this as a matter of course and in the hope of gaining a petty partisan advantage even though it may be at the expense of the State itself.

For such tactics will not prevail. As well might an army of mosquitoes attempt to break down the walls of Gibraltar. For as long as there are Republicans in Nevada representing the people, the efforts of William M. Stewart to endeavor to destroy the good name and destroy the public record of the State will continue. The most of the people in the United States are not in the least interested in the efforts of the Republican party to destroy the public record of the State.

A TRANSPARENT GAME

ONE of the amusing features of the political situation in this State is the pretended anxiety of some Republicans to have letters for anti-railroad legislation. It is especially amusing because of the transparency of the game, which they are endeavoring to play. Every person having the slightest familiarity with Nevada affairs understands perfectly that it is merely a political trick through which it is hoped to retrieve the fallen fortunes of the Republican party of this State.

There has never been a time since railroad construction began here, when the Republican party did not have the substantial backing of every railroad company operating within the State, except as to Senator Stewart's personal candidacy when he was elected as a representative of the Silver Party. Nor has there been a time since the Central Pacific was completed when the Republicans could have carried the State without the aid of that road.

Until the rise of the Silver Party the Republicans quite generally controlled our State government in all its branches. This was the situation at a time when the attitude of the road and its treatment of Nevada were worse than they are now. If the Republican party ever endeavored to apply a corrective the fact is not of record. All that has been done has been accomplished through the Silver Party and its Democratic allies.

The Republican game is simply this. That party is powerless to do anything except to find fault. The leaders, or some of them, therefore pretend to desire anti-railroad Democrats and Silver men must stand sponsors for it. The Republicans can say to the railroad magnates two years hence, "we didn't do it; 'twas those Silver cranks and Democrats." On the other hand if there be no such legislation these same patriots can and will affect indignation at the failure, at the same time winking one eye in the direction of the railroad office in San Francisco, and quietly whispering, "we don't mean anything by this; we are only playing politics and trying to fool the people." Such is the game, but if it has fooled anybody yet, The Journal does not know who the simple-minded individual is.

THE TARIFF AND PRICES

SECRETARY SHAW argues stoutly that the high prices charged in this country and the lower prices at which the same goods are sold abroad are not the outgrowth of the tariff. He says that articles are imported into this country and sold more cheaply than where they are produced.

Doubtless it is true that goods are sometimes exported from free trade countries and sold at rates lower than those charged in the home market. Manufacturers load up with a stock which they cannot sell at home and they get rid of the goods on the best terms possible. At the same time it is clear that in free trade countries the home market prices cannot be run up unreasonably because the pressure of goods from other countries would, of necessity, keep the prices down.

But where a high tariff prevails prices can be forced up in the home market to nearly or quite the full extent of the tariff, before the foreign article can get to compete. Obviously the higher the prices can be maintained in the home market the greater is the cut that can be made in the prices of the goods that are exported. Consequently the tariff aggravates the evil complained of. It enables the manufacturers to rob the consumer in his own country and at the same time carry on a cut-throat competition with producers in other countries.

Secretary Shaw should endeavor either to get deeper into the subject or else to leave it severely alone.

THE coal strike commission is dragging its weary length along at a rate that is likely to consume the entire period of cold weather. When it gets ready to report probably congress will have adjourned, the pinch of cold will be over and the shortage of coal will be of less consequence, and by the time congress meets again, the production and price of coal may be back again at normal. So it is more than likely that the investigation of the commission will be productive of nothing and will not result in any action being taken.

IT IS to be hoped that Nevada will never "grow up" to its present constitution. The constitutional garment was not only a misfit in the first place but it was so fashioned in its cutting and make-up as to be adapted only to the form of a statehood monstrosity. No parent having a young, healthy son, would desire his growth to conform to the garments of a hunch backed or otherwise deformed ancestor.

THE signing of the canal treaty with Colombia is presumed to insure the construction of the Panama route. It was a tight squeeze, however. The time had nearly expired and the demands of Colombia were greater than our government could accept. Colombia had sufficient sense to get down off her high horse before it was too late.

The Man About Town...

Office
ame Old Place

The glass ceilings for the postoffice have arrived and will be put in place at once. When this work has been accomplished the postoffice will be up-to-date in every particular with one exception. The Man About Town bumps into both sides of the little doors every time he goes for the mail.

What would be the matter with having the changing take a whirl at keeping the street crossings clear of ice and snow? As things now stand it takes all one's time to hang onto himself while sliding and slipping from one side of the street to the other. The Man About Town has noticed several instances where pedestrians have connected up with the ground at the rate of about a hundred miles a minute, and it is a wonder that broken limbs have not been more plentiful, to say nothing of bruised feelings and other filigree work that seem necessary adjuncts to a first-class tumble.

And then there are those elegant lights at each entrance to the subway. In the daytime they are not needed especially, so the Man About Town infers that for this reason they are not put in. The entrances are both as slippery as ice can make them, and last evening an individual informed the Man About Town that he started down the Commercial Row pit, slipped, slid and bumped, and the stars he saw furnished illumination for the rest of the trip. However, it is too wearing on the nerves for each and every person to be his own torch.

The present cold is a beaut, and is appreciated accordingly by householders who wake up these mornings and find water chasing itself from garret to cellar—the result of too much freeze in the pipes. There is danger of exploded water boilers unless great care is taken, and also of explosive language, but then that is only natural, and should be passed up.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Reno, Nevada, Feb. 3, 1903.
We, the undersigned members of Local Union, No. 971, of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, would like to call the attention of the public to an article published in the daily Gazette of January 31st as an open letter from the Builders' Association asking for your patronage, claiming to be "fair" contractors. But in answer we must say they are not.

None of the contractors mentioned in the Evening Gazette, of the above date mentioned, hire union men nor recognize our union.

They claim they have no objections to unions if they are conducted properly.

We will state, for the benefit of the public, that we strictly adhere to our constitution and by-laws.

The objects of our union are To discourage piece work and cheap labor, to encourage a higher standard of skill, to cultivate a feeling of friendship among the craft, to establish an eight-hour day, to secure adequate pay for overwork, to furnish aid in cases of death or permanent disability, and by legal and proper means to elevate the moral, intellectual and social conditions of all our members, and to improve the trade.

Now, if any fair-minded person can call this building we would like to hear from them. The Carpenters' Union is not a secret organization. Any person wishing to have a copy of our constitution and by-laws can have one by applying to any of our members.

They claim they make no discrimination against any responsible contractor. We can say that the "fair" contractors of Reno are just as responsible as any of the contractors mentioned in the Gazette, and have proven themselves to be, for the short time they have been in business, and have given as good or better satisfaction, and have always paid union wages and hired none but union men.

In conclusion we will say, we want our non-union friends, and the public in general to know that we are not bulldozers, but law abiding citizens. And furthermore we will state that the Carpenters' Union is here to stay.

AYER, The Jeweler.

Although his bloody act finds strong condemnation all over the Union, Lieutenant Governor Jas. H. Tillman, of South Carolina, is confident that his sentence for the murder of Editor Gonzales will be light, if he is not altogether acquitted. He boasts that the best legal talent the State of South Carolina has ever possessed will rally to defend him.

KNAVE OR FOOL, WHICH?

A Letter Sent From This City That Will Certainly Do Great Harm

The following article appeared in a paper published in Baker City, Ore., and is reproduced for the purpose of showing that the foolkiller has not as yet completed his task in this vicinity:

"A private letter received in this city yesterday from Reno, Nevada, states that the 'black plague' has been prevalent in that city for 60 days past and that an average of three deaths a day marks the record of the disease. The facts have been suppressed by the authorities and have just now leaked out through personal correspondence. It is said that nearly every residence in Reno is under quarantine and that the town has been quarantined against the outside world."

If there is a person in Reno guilty of sending out a letter of that kind, the sooner his identity is discovered the better it will be for all concerned. He is either a fool or a knave, or most likely both. Such a creature is too contemptible to be even spat upon. In sending out a letter with statements made in the article above the writer shows to the people of the town, State and coast that he is a malicious liar or a gibbering idiot.

There is not now, nor has there ever been, a case of "Black Plague" in Reno, or in the State, as far as The Journal is able to find out.

If the Oregon paper will furnish The Journal with the name of the person who sent, or received the letter, we will send this paper to any address in the United States for fifteen years free gratis.

Returned From Searchlight

F. M. Nicholson returned last evening from a visit to Searchlight, where he has been in the interests of the A. O. U. W. Mr. Nicholson is Supreme Deputy for the State in this order and reports everything in fine shape in that camp. He says that three or four mills are being worked and that a large number of men are employed.

Mr. Nicholson will remain here for some time.

ESCAPED AN AWFUL FATE

Mr. H. Haggins of Melbourne, Fla., writes, "My doctor told me I had consumption and nothing could be done for me. I was given up to die. The offer of a free trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, induced me to try it. Results were startling. I am now on the road to recovery and owe all to Dr. King's New Discovery. It surely saved my life." This great cure is guaranteed for all throat and lung diseases by S. J. Hodgkinson Drugist. Price 50c & $1.00. Trial Bottles free.

NEARLY FORFEITS HIS LIFE

A runaway almost ending fatally, started a horrible ulcer on the leg of J. B. Orner, Franklin Grove, Ill. For four years it defied all doctors and all remedies. But Bucklin's Arnica Salve had no trouble to cure him. Equally good for burns, bruises, skin eruptions and piles. 25c at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store.

MYSTERIOUS CIRCUMSTANCES

One was pale and sallow and the other fresh and rosy. Whence the difference? She who is blushing with health uses Dr. King's New Life Pills to maintain it. By gently arousing the lazy organs they compel good digestion and head off constipation. Try them. Only 25c at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drugist.

A Painful Accident

Yesterday morning J. H. Flynn, of Clairville, who has been visiting friends here for a few days, met with a painful accident. He was coming up Commercial Row and when in front of the Overland hotel he slipped and fell, striking his head against the curbing of the sidewalk. He was assisted to his room and Dr. Woods summoned. It was found that he had sustained an ugly cut on his forehead, and several stitches had to be taken to close the wound. He was resting easily last evening.

Women of Woodcraft Will Entertain

The Journal acknowledges the receipt of an invitation to the entertainment to be given by the Grand Circle, Women of Woodcraft, of Utopia Circle, No. 286, at Harmony Hall, on the evening of February 6th. The entertainment will consist of fine stereopticon views and instrumental and vocal music.

The Utopia Circle is one of the most popular organization in the city and has among its members many of the best known people in this State.

May Meet Our Representatives

It is said that an informal invitation has been extended to the representatives of this county in the legislature to meet the Board of County Commissioners next Saturday for the purpose of discussing the needs of legislation for this commonwealth. If this is so, it is a move in the right direction. The Commissioners are well informed as to the needs of the county and can give our representatives information that will probably result in a vast amount of good.

Needs New Paper

The district court room is sadly in need of new wall paper. There are six ugly patches on the ceiling, while the side walls look as though they had been through the war, as far as scars are concerned.

ALL AROUND THE TRACK

How the Good Ones Are Booted From Start to Finish

The first race on the card was a six and a half furlong selling affair. Golden Cottage, the 2 to 1 favorite, with J. Daly up, had no difficulty in winning, being a length to the good at the finish. Nellie Forest, a 4 to 1 shot, ridden by Kelly, finished second a neck in front of San Lutton, ridden by Bullman.
The Major, a 4 to 5 favorite, won the second race at seven eighths. Burns had the mount on the favorite and breaking in front led all the way, winning easily at the end by four lengths. Warte Nicht, the second choice in the betting and ridden by Waldo, finished second, six lengths in front of the 10 to 1 shot, Ora Viva. Action was played down from 8 to 6 to 1 in this race, but finished outside of the money.
The third race over the futurity course went to Slave, the 3 to 5 favorite, well ridden by Bullman. Blue Miracle, a 12 to 1 shot, with C. Kelly up finished second a neck in front of Gyros, with J. Daly up.
The fourth race, a handicap at three quarters, was the best race on the card. There were but three starters, Kenilworth, Byron Rose and Old England. Burns had the mount on Kenilworth, with Minder up on Byron Rose and Waldo on Old England. Kenilworth was the favorite at all stages of the betting, going to the post at 2 to 5, with Byron Rose at 3 to 1 and Old England the outsider, at 5 to 1. Burns got Kenilworth off in front and leading all the way, won easily by a length. In the run through the stretch Byron Rose moved up from last position and beat Old England a neck for the place.
In the fifth race at a mile and fifty yards Fillbuster a 4 to 1 shot with J. Daly up won by a half length from the favorite Ulloa, ridden by Birken-enth. Frank Pearce 12 to 1 shot with Fawley in the saddle, finished third, five lengths away.
The first race of the day at a mile was won by Urchin, a 2 to 1 shot, well ridden by Burns. Sleeping Child, with Minder up, and 10 to 1 in the betting finished second with Mr. Dingle another long shot third.
Jockey Tommie Burns carried off the honors again today with three wins to his credit. P. Daly was a close second with two winners and Bullman accounted for the other one.

Inquiry Into Fighter's Death
SITUATED Feb. 3.—The case of Hugh Murphy, a New York pugilist who is charged with manslaughter as a result of the death of Eugene McCarthy, his opponent in a bout here two weeks ago, came up for hearing in court today. While it is generally believed that Murphy will be exonerated the fatal ending of the bout is certain to put a quietus on prize fighting in Rhode Island for some time to come.

Handler vs. O'Rourke
BANGOR Me. Feb. 3.—The National Club expects a good crowd on hand for its boxing show tomorrow night. The attraction to draw the fight followers is a twenty round bout between Jimmy Handler of Brooklyn and Charley O'Rourke of Boston. The two are considered evenly matched and a lively contest is expected to be the outcome.

STATE NEWS OF INTEREST

What the People Outside of Reno Are Doing

There was a snow slide 500 feet beyond Tunnel 9 last night. The slide was sixty feet wide and twelve feet deep. By aid of the snow plow the trackmen got through it in about two hours. Trains were delayed for that time.—Truckee Republican.

James Allen, the San Francisco beef buyer, bought from Joe Blackburn, of Reno, 100 head of fine beef steers last week, and shipped them
Wednesday.—Lyon County Times.

The rotary snow plow is out these days clearing sidings. If the snow continues to fall it will have to go to Tunnel 13, as the banks of snow are getting too high for push plows to do the work.—Truckee Republican.

Mrs. W. T. Bunney has paid into the Inyo county treasury the entire sum found to have been missing at the recent investigation, and has also paid an amount to cover the cost of having the vault opened. Not a trace of Mr. Bunney has been discovered up to the last advices received.—Lyon County Times.

A Mistake

In another part of The Journal we he had purchased the entire stock of the Nevada Cycle Co. This is a mistake. He purchased some shop-worn who bought them from us to secure a location for a candy store. You can

MINING NEWS OF INTEREST

Gathered from Doings of the Camps Here- about

The Ray & O'Brien Co. at Ray are down 300 feet, with 2 to 4 feet of ore
—some shipping.

The Silver King at Lone mountain is sinking on a vein 7 feet wide, of which 8 inches on the hanging wall goes $6 per ton in silver; the balance of the vein goes $8.

The Mizpah Extension Co.'s shaft is down 612 feet. In sinking the surplus for crosscuts the showing determined the management to crosscut at this level and continue sinking. They are coming into another ledge. The Osborne mill at Butler wells is running on Tonopah ores.

The shaft is being steadily sunk on the Molly group, in Nye county, and good progress is being made. The ground is very hard; the formation is changing somewhat, and it is expected to strike a body of high grade mineral within a short time.

The Indiana-Tonopah company is sinking a two-compartment shaft on the Owl claim, and some promising mineral is being uncovered. The properties consist of sixteen claims, all of which have a 'good showing.

A recent examination has been made of the Silver Peak group in Esmeralda county by a well known expert in the interest of eastern parties, and as the result of the examination was satisfactory a deal will doubtless be completed for their purchase, and it consummated it is likely a number of improvements will be made consisting of the installation of plants, pipelines, etc. The mines have turned out a large amount of gold in former years. These mines are located in Esmeralda county, southeast of the Tonopah district.

The Douglas mine and Smelter company has recently been formed to operate this group of mines, located near Yerington. A. B. W. Hodges of San Francisco is the general manager. A good force of men will be soon set to work and the property thoroughly developed, some new machinery will be installed.

GOOD NEWS

It will be good news to the mothers of small children to learn that croup can be prevented. The first sign of croup is hoarseness. A day or two before the attack the child becomes hoarse. This is soon followed by a peculiar rough cough. Give Chamberlain's Cough Remedy freely as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the rough cough appears, and it will dispel all symptoms of croup. In this way all danger and anxiety may be avoided. This remedy is used by many thousands of mothers and has never been known to fail. It is, in fact, the only remedy that can always be depended upon and that is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by S.
J. Hodgkinson.

CENTENNIAL EXPOSITION

To Be Held in Portland, Oregon, in 1905

The State of Nevada entertains, evidently, a warm, friendly interest in the enterprise known as the Lewis & Clark Centennial Exposition, which is particularly a Pacific Coast and Oriental fair for 1905. A special commissioner of the Centennial, Mr. Freeman, has laid before the Nevada legislature the plan and scope of the Northwest exposition and has aroused considerable interest among the members.

The Ways and Means Committees of both branches have given Mr. Freeman a hearing and yesterday afternoon they voted in committee, to recommend that the Nevada exhibit at the St. Louis World's Fair next year, be kept intact and transferred to Portland, Oregon, and shown there for the edification and instruction of the world at large. Tourist travel as well as intending investors and homeseekers, it is fully believed, will be induced to come to the Oregon fair. Mr. Freeman has shown by some very earnest work among our people that specific results may accrue to the States and territories of the West through this coast fair. The Oriental feature will include a big Filipino Village and an exhibition of the arts and industries of the Japanese and old China as she really is at home. Our legislators appreciate the benefits of West coast advertising and the work so nicely started here will undoubtedly be completed by the lawmakers of 1905 Nevada's governor, John Sparks, has taken an interest in the proportion of a display from Nevada and will probably make some special recommendations to the legislature within a few days.

It is said that sleighing is fine on the roads outside of the city. This is entirely hearsay testimony. Newspaper men don't indulge in this pastime while the present rates prevail.

While Dr. Dempsey was on a short visit to this city yesterday he received a message summoning him to Dayton. When he reached Dayton he found that Pachini Bartolemo had been shot by Albert Baroni, the charge from a shotgun taking effect in his legs and abdomen. Dr. Dempsey dressed the injury and does not think the wound will be fatal. Baroni is about 14 years of age and the shooting was accidental, the parties being on a hunting trip. —Virginia Chronicle.

AETNA MINERAL WATER

(Bottled at Aetna Springs, Napa Co. Cal.)

There are so many kinds of mineral waters on the market, and all claiming to possess healthful properties, that it is difficult for a person to make a choice.

When we consider, however, that AETNA has stood in the front rank for years, has been a favorite for households as well as public resorts, and has been recommended by eminent physicians, who use it themselves and prescribe it for patients, there should be no question in the matter of selection.
